

Strategy Deployment: The Key to Leading the Lean Enterprise is a two-part event (one live and one pre-recorded) using two different streaming services. As many companies do not allow their employees to access streaming video, we ask that you confirm that you will be able to participate in the event.

Please print out this page and give it to your IT Department as it contains the information they will need to allow you and your company to access the streaming components of this event.

Streaming Media Websites:

- In order to view the pre-recorded part of this event please allow access to www.vimeo.com. Please grant access immediately so the user can view the video in advance of the live presentation taking place February 24, 2010. For additional information about Vimeo please go to www.vimeo.com/help
- In order to view the live video part of this event please allow access to *.ustream.tv and flash.quantserve.com, you will need to unblock port 1935 globally. Access to this site will not be required until February 24, 2010. For additional information about Ustream.tv please go to <http://helpcenter.ustream.tv/>

To verify that you can view the video stream please go to:

Please note:

The live video will be recorded and both parts 1 and 2 will be available for on demand viewing until March 24, 2010. So please allow access to vimeo.com and youstream.tv until then.

Only those who register for this event will be granted access, please use the User Name and Password issued to you in the confirmation email sent to you after registering.
